Torrance City Council Honors Ronald “Ron” T.L. Littlefair Posthumously with the Jared Sidney Torrance Award

Torrance, Calif., May 12, 2005 – On May 17th, Ronald “Ron” T.L. Littlefair will posthumously receive the Jared Sidney Torrance Award. Mayor Dan Walker will present the award to his wife Marion during a regularly scheduled Torrance City Council meeting in the Council Chambers located at 3031 Torrance Blvd.

Ron Littlefair, a decorated Air Force pilot, moved to Torrance with his family in 1964. He helped found the American Youth Soccer Organization (AYSO) and served as commissioner. He also became an original shareholder and served as vice president of Keenan & Associates, one of the nation’s largest privately held insurance agencies.

Littlefair lived a life of volunteering even after his retirement in 1981. He served as chairman of the City of Torrance’s Blue Ribbon Commission for review of the City Charter, was member of groups such as People for Parks, Madrona Marsh, and even hosted “Homegrown”, a cooking show on CitiCABLE channel 3. He successfully advocated for the creation of the Torrance Certified Farmers’ Market and served as editor of its newsletter, “Fresh Farmer”.

Littlefair’s continued generosity with his time and talents makes him an ideal candidate for the Jared Sidney Torrance Award.

The Award was established in 1984 to recognize citizens who served the community through a lifetime of leadership and dedication. Past recipients include former Mayors Ken Miller, Jim Armstrong and Katy Geissert; and most recently, Torrance businessman George W. Post.
